Make sure that your application fee is paid. If you make the payment and see the status as unpaid, contact us (admissions@utb.cz), and don't forget to send us a confirmation of payment. If you receive a note from the admissions officer, you'll see it at the bottom of the application. The admissions officer will usually contact you this way if there is something missing in your application.

The Documents section shows documents issued by the university (for example, a decision on your admission).
